In the opinion of your committee, the schools, for the most part, have made excellent progress, yet we regret to say that in some instances they were not what could be desired, or what they should have been. During the year a larger number of changes than usual have taken place among the teachers. Some have removed from town and entered upon other scenes of labor, while others have been transferred from one school to another. In the grammar school, Mr. Richardson resigned his position early in the spring, and James B. French was elected to supply tlie place thus left vacant. Mr. French resigned in September and was succeeded by Miss Abbie E. Cate, of Wolfeboro'. Miss Emma Brewster was transferred from the McDuffee school to the Morrison school, in place of Miss Berry, who resigned. Miss Crockett was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the transfer of Miss Brewster. Miss Sadie Cate, of the Loon Cove school, resigned her situation in September, and Miss Lillian J. Gleason filled the vacancy. Misses Jones, Rollins and Furber, who taught the Lang, Bay and Mountain schools last year and resigned their positions, were succeeded respectively by Misses Hurd, Bickford and Osborne. The other schools, with one or two exceptions, have been taught by the same teachers as last year. While we are pleased to say that in no instance has death entered into the ranks of our teachers, we are grieved as we remember that the same exemption from death has not been granted to the committee. One of our most valued members has been taken from us. Nathaniel Stevens, a member of the school board for the last two years, died on the 22d day of September, after a short illness, aged 58 years. Mr. Stevens had been a teacher in our public schools for many years, and was a man of excellent scholarship, of clear mind and sound reason.

Attendance at school during the year past has in general been good, except in two or three instances. The most lamentable deficiency was found to exist in the grammar school, during the last half of the last term of the year. From the report submitted by the teacher, Miss Cate, it was found that the number belonging to the school was twenty-one. The number found by the committee at the close of the term was only ten. Now where are we to look for the cause of this? If the lessons given out by our teachers were long and difficult to learn, and danger to physical health were incurred by too close mental application, we might here find a reason. But such is not the case. We are of the opinion, however, that one great trouble is the too ready compliance of parents with their children's wishes. If they want to stay at home on account of the teacher's mode of discipline, or want to work in the shop, they are allowed to do so. This is wholly wrong. If our school advantages are worth anything at all to us, they are worth improving. When school is in session, school matters are the most important, and it would seem that parents, knowing the advantages of an education, would prize it so highly as to be unwilling to have their children stay out of school a day without some valid cause. We commend this subject to the respectful attention of parents. Of the various branches taught in the schools, reading has received more than the usual attention, and in some schools it has not been merely an exercise, but a study. Writing has been practiced to a large extent in every school. The books shown at the close of the terms gave evidence of much improvement. To write a good hand is an accomplishment of which any boy or girl may justly feel proud. The registers show a list of 107 names of scholars who have not been absent or tardy a half day of a term. We feel highly gratified at the interest manifested by parents and citizens in visiting the schools; it will encourage the teacher and stimulate the scholars to greater earnestness in their work. The number recorded is 372, or 100 more visits than made last year. We wish all parents would visit their schools two or three times during each term and form their judgments from their own observations. They can then see whether good and proper discipline is maintained, and can learn of the advancements made as in no other way. We wish briefly to call your attention to the length of the schools. You will recollect that last year each term was about eight weeks, while this year the average has been ten weeks, showing an increase of school privileges for the town of about fifty-four weeks. The coming year there will be no dog tax for the support of schools, and the literary fund will be considerably less than last year, and we hope no mistaken idea of economy will tempt you to make any reduction in your appropriations.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER J. M. GILMAN, Board of PHINEAS · H. WHEELER, Education.
